

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

REPORT OF THE TAX COMMISSIONER.

AUSTIN, TEXAS, September 10, 1907.

To His Excellency, Thomas M. Campbell, Governor of Texas.

DEAR SIR: Since the filing of my last report, September 19, 1906, Chapter 146 of the General Laws of the Twenty-ninth Legislature, known as the "Intangible Asset Act," has been passed upon by the courts of the State. On the 12th day of March, 1907, the Supreme Court of Texas handed down a decision in the case of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas vs. O. K. Shannon et al., composing the State Tax Board, fully sustaining the constitutionality of the act and the action of the State Tax Board thereunder as set forth in the First Annual Report of the Tax Commissioner.

In pursuance of this decision, coupled with suggestions from the Executive based upon experience in the actual working of the law, an amended intangible asset bill was drafted, introduced and finally passed by the Thirtieth Legislature, receiving approval May 16th of the current year.

Under this amended act, now known as Chapter 17 of the General Laws of the Thirtieth Legislature, the operations of the State Tax Board, composed of J. W. Stephens, Comptroller of Public Accounts; L. T. Dashiell, Secretary of State, and the Tax Commissioner, were conducted, and the results set forth in the following tables, to which I beg to call your attention, were reached and recorded:

Table No. 1 gives in tabular form an abstract of the reports furnished to the Board by the several corporations embraced in the act, with the addition of the amount of value of intangible property as ascertained and fixed by the Board in each instance.

This table shows large and gratifying increase in the gross and net income of the railroads of Texas, indicative of the industrial and commercial growth of the State, resultant in a like increase in the value of the intangible property of railroad companies owning or operating roads within its borders.

Table No. 2 gives the counties and corporations in each embraced in this act, together with the following additional items of information:

- (a) Mileage in counties.
- (b) Railroad Commission valuation in each county of all roads operated therein, not including the value of rolling stock.
- (c) Value of tangible property of railroads in each county as ascertained by the State Tax Board on the mileage basis, not including the value of shops, terminals and other general property in the separate counties.
- (d) Assessed value of the physical property of railroads in each county, including rolling stock and general property appearing upon the tax rolls of 1906.
- (e) The value of the intangible property, in each county, of every corporation embraced in this act, operated therein, as fixed and determined by the State Tax Board and certified to the tax assessors of the several counties.

Table No. 3 contains precisely the same information, arranged alphabetically by railroads, the counties in which operated, and the totals thereof in each instance.

In view of the operation of Chapter XI of the General Laws of the Thirtieth Legislature, known as the "Full Rendition Act," it is believed that the information contained in the several tables of this report, and especially the value of the physical or tangible property of railroads in each county, as found by the State Tax Board, will prove of great value to the tax assessors and deputy tax assessors, county judges and county commissioners of the counties in which the railroads listed therein are operated in the discharge of their duties regarding the assessment of such tangible property for taxation, and the assessment of the tangible and intangible property of such other corporations located in their counties as, on account of their local character, are not specifically embraced in the Intangible Asset Act.

As required by the amended Intangible Asset Act, the State Tax Board, in open session, gave full, free and patient hearing to the representatives of the several corporations embraced therein, at which hearings arguments were made and proof adduced by the railroad companies to show that the present value of the tangible property of the several corporations is far in excess of that ascertained by the Railroad Commission at the date of such Railroad Commission valuation by reason of betterments, permanent improvements, etc., since that date. These contentions were so evidently just that in making the final estimate of the value of the intangible property of such corporations the State Tax Board, in every instance justified by the proof, increased the value of such tangible property and decreased the value of the intangible property of the railroads as fixed by the preliminary estimate of same by more than fifty millions of dollars in the aggregate.

Not all of the tax rolls of 1907 are yet available for examination, but it is safe to say that this fifty millions of dollars worth of additional tangible property, so insistently pleaded for and so eloquently urged upon the Board, has not found its way to the tax rolls of 1907, nor any appreciable part thereof.

An analysis of the footings of Tables Nos. 2 and 3 of this report will show that the assessed value of the tangible property of railroads, including rolling stock as appearing upon the tax rolls of 1906, is less by more than one hundred and forty-three millions of dollars than the value of such tangible property as found by the State Tax Board on the 1st day of January, 1907. When, therefore, this report is printed I shall consider it my duty to mail a copy of same to each county tax assessor and each county judge of every county in which a railroad embraced therein is situated, calling especial attention to the column giving the values of the tangible property in each county as found by the Board, and to recommend such valuation as a safe, carefully calculated and proper basis of assessment. A just and legal rendition of this amount, in addition to the value of the tangible property of railroads since constructed and the increased value of the older corporations, will add not less than one hundred and fifty millions of taxable values to the tax rolls of 1908.

The railroad companies owning and operating lines in the State of Texas were on the 1st day of January, 1907, possessed of property, tangible and intangible, in this State, to the value of about four hundred and twenty millions of dollars. It is doubtful whether the tax rolls of 1907 will show as much as two hundred and seventy-five millions, tangible and intangible.

From the tax rolls of 1907, already in the hands of the Comptroller, it appears that the mandatory clause of the amended Intangible Asset Act has secured the assessment of the value of the intangible property certified to the county tax assessors by the State Tax Board. Should dereliction be discovered, it will be duly reported to the proper authorities.

The Legislature having appropriated only $150 per annum for the use of the State Tax Board, for telegraphing, incidentals and stationery, it is impracticable to secure such thorough and satisfactory examination of books, papers and accounts as the act provides and the public service may require. It is reasonable to hope that future Legislatures, in view of the value and importance of the work of this Board, may deal with it in a more liberal spirit and not hamper its scope and usefulness by inadequate appropriations.

Before closing this report, I beg to acknowledge the valuable assistance and advice received from the Attorney General, from my associates upon the Board and from yourself in the discharge of my duties as Tax Commissioner, and to return to them and to your Excellency my sincere thanks for the kindness, courtesy and support so uniformly granted me.

Very truly yours,

W. R. DAVIE,
Tax Commissioner.
